

Math 263, Section One, Assignment # 1

Read the “To Students: What is Statistics?” section on page xxxi. and look through the Table of Contents starting on page v to get some idea of what we are up to this semester. Download the class syllabus, the section policy and the list of homework assignments. They are posted to the section web page linked to my home page at

<http://math.arizona.edu/~alexa>

Also look at the Introduction to Minitab, which is posted to the course web page at

<http://math.arizona.edu/~stats>

Turn in by 4 p.m. on Friday, 18 January, 2008 TO MY OFFICE comments on the posted section policy. Include as a minimum one thing you like and one you do not like. This assignment will not be accepted elsewhere, you must find my office – there will be a box outside the door with your course and section number on it. This is the only assignment to be turned in this way, see the instructions in the course policy for all other assignments.
