Homework
Homework will be assigned regularly; expect to have one written assignment and one electronic assignment through MyMathLab every week. Electronic assignments must be completed by midnight of the due date. Written homework is to be turned in at the beginning of class on the day it’s due. If for some reason your homework is not complete at that time, please speak with me before class starts. Do NOT work on it during class.

Homework should be done in a neat fashion: please use regular notebook or computer paper, multiple pages should be stapled, and illegible work will not be graded. Homework will be graded and returned to you in a timely fashion. While working with other students is encouraged, you must write up your own solutions. It is extremely easy to catch cheating and academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. If you have questions or need help on the homework please always feel welcome to come to my office hours, but please do so before the homework is due.

Quizzes
We will also have quizzes once a week at the beginning of class on Thursdays. If you show up late for a quiz you will not be given extra time. If you miss a quiz due to absence you will not be able to make it up unless prior arrangements were made.

Grading
At the end of the semester I will drop the lowest few homework and quiz grades. The remaining homework grades will be averaged and scaled to a total of 100 points, while the remaining quizzes will be averaged and scaled to a total of 50 points. Your combined homework and quiz grade is therefore worth 150 points out of the total possible 800 points in the course (the remaining 650 points come from tests and exams). There will be no extra credit assignments.
